LADY'S COSTUME.

A Simple, but Stylish Gown.—A girl who is fond of wearing the more satis- and father buttons is here portrayed. The skirt is finished with a girdle of the same material. The flounced waist is closed at the side and the dress worn without the chemise. The close fitting sleeve has a small cuff. The new style of chesterfield coat would lend themselves nicely for this style, which is also desirable for visit, concert, sport, tennis, and golf, etc. The pattern is cut in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 3 yards of 36-inch material and a 36-inch size.

The pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 100 in silver or stamp.

An accurate pattern, full cut this blank (write plainly). Enclose amount and mail to Pattern Department, The Hamilton Times, Hamilton, Ont.

It will take several days before you can get pattern.

The General

"Even laugh; but is it not strange?" said Violet, gravely. "And, what is strange, is the mind, at the disappearance of the appearance, to the different persons who have seen it tally exactly? All say it is a woman in white robes, with a pink bow and gold embroidery, and that it carries a strange, shaded light, which throws a fearful glare for some distance. Is it not awful?"

"Not very," he said.

"I have been better at Drury Lane. And does not the ghost of Hamlet call to the shades of the wretched, or does she groan?"

"Yes; she has been seen at that small window on the right you see."

"Is the ghost before us?" he asked.

"Yes," he said, "and what room is that?"

"The room in the old castle, which was set up standing by my father's directions," said Violet, in a low voice. "He used to stand outside to see that she did not run away, or does she groan?"

"Yes; she has been seen at that small window on the right you see."

"Is the ghost before us?" he asked.

"Yes," he said. "Look, the moon is up."

"How dark it is! And what a thin, pale, thin body was it?" said Violet, clutching Leicester's arm.

"What—where?" he asked, quickly, laying his hand upon her shoulder.

"In the room on the left," he said.

"The room on the left?" he said.

"Yes, it has gone."

"What?" he asked, still keeping the hand which she seemed to frightened to come.

"I—scarcely know," said he, brokenly, and laid a shoulder, which Leicester held, his handsome face and long legs a charm with them.

"A ghost?" he said, with a light at the little window.

"Yes, the ghost behind the cloud, I think."

"The ghost behind the cloud?" he gasped.

"Yes, it has gone."

"What?" he asked.

"I—was interested in you look."

"Chesterfield and Leicester, fixing his dark, scrutinizing eyes upon him. "Did you hear Miss Mildmay call out?"

"No, I did not," he said, innocently. "I only just now heard."

But he had been close beside them for some minutes, and had not only seen Miss Mildmay's face, but the whole of the conversation.

"CHAPTER X.

Some quiet evenings are more productive of reflection and afterthought than the many more exciting and apparently eventful ones. How little there is to talk over a half hour, in quadrille, is like another, and the moments are very much another. Most ballrooms are hot, most partners are unsatisfactory. But how often a quiet evening with a few hours' rest, and the beginning of some great matter—the mustard seed when spring the shadowing tree, the heat of the stream which has its whole course.

So it was with several of the members of Mrs. Dodson's quiet, little dinner party.

Five of them at least returned to rest that night very thoughtful.

The captain, when he had reached the little room, took off his coat of his luxurious suit, cast off as if he were a mask the careless smile of simple amiability and showed in his countenance something that was not there.

As he walked to the window and looked out upon the scene bathed in the moonlight, his face grave and browned, his hair thinning, his eyes looking a different person to the easy-going gen-

PARCELS POST

Postmaster—General Announces Rates in House.

Zone System is the One to be Used.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—According to Hon. L. E. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, the much-discussed parcel post system may be an accomplished fact by Feb. 1st. He announced in the House to-day that the work of preparation of rates, etc., had been completed. These are subsequently tabulated.

The system has been simplified as much as possible. For each Province there is to be a valuable anti-discriminatory rate card, on which the Postmasters are to be advised of the rates of postal service and of the cost of mailing parcels and to enable them to suggest its real value.

RATES FOR ONTARIO.

The Ontario rates are as follows: To any Postoffice within 20 miles, one cent; five cents; two pounds, six cents; three pounds, seven cents; and two cents for each additional pound up to 20 miles.

Within the Province—two cents; three pounds, 12 cents; four pounds, 18 cents; five pounds, 24 cents; six pounds, 30 cents; seven pounds, 36 cents; eight pounds, 42 cents; nine pounds, 48 cents; 10 pounds, 54 cents; and 11 pounds, 60 cents.

To any Postoffice in Quebec or Prince Edward Island, two cents; five cents; six cents; seven cents; eight cents; nine cents; 10 cents; 11 cents; 12 cents; 13 cents; 14 cents; 15 cents; 16 cents; 17 cents; 18 cents; 19 cents; 20 cents; 21 cents; 22 cents; 23 cents; 24 cents; 25 cents; 26 cents; 27 cents; 28 cents; 29 cents; 30 cents; 31 cents; 32 cents; 33 cents; 34 cents; 35 cents; 36 cents; 37 cents; 38 cents; 39 cents; 40 cents; 41 cents; 42 cents; 43 cents; 44 cents; 45 cents; 46 cents; 47 cents; 48 cents; 49 cents; 50 cents; 51 cents; 52 cents; 53 cents; 54 cents; 55 cents; 56 cents; 57 cents; 58 cents; 59 cents; 60 cents; 61 cents; 62 cents; 63 cents; 64 cents; 65 cents; 66 cents; 67 cents; 68 cents; 69 cents; 70 cents.

MR. TAFT IN TORONTO.

The Hon. William H. Taft, former President of the United States, spoke in Toronto yesterday before a distinguished audience on "Popular Government." It was a very interesting address, in which he submitted that the people of Canada had the advantage in the building up of their country of the experience of the United States, and of being able to avoid the mistakes made by that country. Mr. Taft is evidently of the opinion that the small government and the federal government are better than the central government, as the small government is more easily controlled, and the central government is less able to "destroy all independence of action." Although the States had practically universal suffrage, and while there were ninety millions of people there, he pointed out that only about eighteen millions had the right to vote, and out of that number only about one million voted. He also pointed out that "as in the last election, the successful candidate was voted for by less than a majority of that thirteen million, you find that this so-called popular government is not literally a popular government." This is one of the limitations of popular or majority government, for while no remedy has been found. From this Mr. Taft touched the question of women's franchise, declaring that women had not a primary reason or natural right to the vote, and expressing his fear that intelligent women would not be likely to use the franchise, while ignorant women would be subservient to men of their own class in voting. None are so blind as those who will not see. Mr. Taft has the experience of nine States, where women have the vote, before his eyes, and he thinks that women should not be given the franchise, as there are many more danger of ignorant women misusing their franchise than there are of ignorant men doing so. Does he not know that the present misuse of the franchise by men in the States is a scandal? Does he not know that bribery, persuation, repeating and many other evils are conspicuous features of U. S. politics? He thinks that women should be admitted to the franchise, as they are the brightest and most progressive in the whole history of the British Empire, and we all know that Queen Elizabeth acted as a ruler and a statesman. Sex did not delude them from a share in the government of the country. Like all other reforms, of a political or social nature which have had to be fought for, women are finding that they will have to fight for justice. Just as our ancestors fought in the early eighties for their right to the ballot vote, so women will have to fight. From time immemorial those who had the vote fought to prevent those who had not from getting it. When we bear glowing periods, to parody Mr. Taft about the democracy, remember that there can be no real democracy when half the population—the bigger half—is excluded from the franchise management. Women are coming to the front rapidly. They have won complete recognition in many of the walks of life. They have forced their way into the universities and colleges of the country; they have fought their way to the bar, and into the medical profession; they are taking leading positions in many of the businesses of the country, and in total and other circles for the uplift and betterment of the common people they are doing in many ways greater work than the men.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It might pay the Jockey Club to sell out and move out into the country.

How is Al! Wright to get authority from the non-property owners to borrow $200,000?

The champion Tory wimpeller seems to have quite a pull with some of the Liberal members.

There will not be any great objection to the increase in pay given to the policemen. Their lot is not an easy one.

Perhaps some of the objectors have a piece of land down east that they would like to part with as a hospital site.

It may be necessary to draw the attention of some people to the fact that the proposed mountain site for the new hospital is in No. 1 Ward.

Toronto regrets to learn that the Hon. Geo. W. Ross is indisposed, and hopes that he will be able to attend to his Senatorial duties.

Why should certain city hall officials be so officious in their opposition to the mountain site for the hospital? Are they trying to run the Council?

There are said to be many defective and unhealthy children in Toronto's schools. Their neglect at this stage will result in keeping out asylum full later on.

The Ontario Legislature will resume business at the old stand on February 18, with Hon. J. J. Fay in Sir James' place. Mr. Fay is in line of succession, but he will not succeed Sir James.

The recent vote of 1,000 of having to leave home to help the unemployed over the idle season. The Times is willing to allow the Government to do as it pleases about building the houses, but it certainly does object to provincial money being given to Toronto to help keep its unemployed from starving, unless Hamilton and other cities receive a similar grant. Why should the rest receive a larger amount of the people of the Province to keep Toronto people? The unemployed men in Hamilton are not all Hamilton people by long odds. Not a few of them came from Toronto. Should Hamilton have to support its own poor, and also help Toronto to support its poor? We had long ago dropped the name of "Hogtown" as a Toronto alias, but these controllers act as if it might be well to bring it back.

The present situation, and the fact that many of those needing assistance are men who were brought out here last season by the Government, is evidence that the Government will have to revise their immigration plans. Something must be done to prevent hordes.

The Postmaster General promises that the post office for Canada will be open to the public on January 25. The Zone system as used by the United States postal authorities. It will be very much of an experiment, and as its weak points are shown, changes of rates or other matters will have to be made. The postoffice staff will have to be considerably strengthened.

We notice that the Dominion Government has been particularly good to a number of Tory newspapers. The Montreal Star, for example, in the year while the Hamilton Spectator's paper was reduced to the meagre sum of $7,500, in the older days it used to get—what was $4—four times for its printing, in addition to advertising patronage.

The Postmaster General promises that the post office for Canada will be open to the public on January 25.

ended. The parcels post will be quite a test of the efficiency of the postoffice department.

Evidently Premier Botha, of South Africa, is using high handed methods in dealing with the labor agitators over there. Their deportation violates the presumption that they are Englishmen, and apparently Botha would rather see that what they believe the law men have for their troubles.

The statement was made today by Ald. Wright that Ald. Robson had promised him not to change his vote on the hospital site question. We do not know what reason that alderman has for doing so against the wishes of the people at the polls. But we think that he is in poor business making promises to the principal Tory wire-puller in the council. It is evident that Ald. Wright will hook or crook if he can upset the vote, and the mayor and those who believe with him should see that his little game is blocked. It would be ridiculous to think that any one man should be so egotistical to think that he knows what is good for the people better than they know themselves.

THE DOMINION BANK.

From the statements and reports made at the forty-third annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Dominion Bank of Canada, held in Toronto, this week, it is seen that the bank had a most prosperous year and that this substantial financial institution is popular with the public. The annual statement for the year ended 31 December, 1913, was the best ever recorded in the history of the bank, with a total of $100,000,000 in assets, and $67,000,000 for 1911. In addition to the net profits of $500,000, the bank received as premiums on new capital stock the sum of $811,000 and brought forward from the previous year a balance of $688,000, making a total of $242,000 available for distribution. Dividend disbursements and bonuses took $675,000, and surplus fund $811,000, leaving a balance of $25,000, leaving $25,000 in reserve. The bank is now in a position to be carried forward. The bank has now a paid-up capital of $5,811,000, a reserve of $811,000 and total assets of $80,566,000. The year has been an exceptionally prosperous one for the Dominion Bank.

CONTROLLING THE WEATHER.

(London Morning Advertiser)

If you come to think that you can't control the weather, just look at what a man is thus put to death, who fails to control the weather of his own life.

Final Reductions in This Sweeping Clearance of All Apparel

Our fiscal year ends Saturday, and we are determined that our inventory records shall show small stock of apparel. To accomplish this we have again reduced our conservative prices to an astonishing degree. For this reason we believe that this, our final clearance sale, will be the most sensational of its kind that we have ever had, for everything in our entire stock is newly priced.

DEMAND FOR FREE WHEAT

Dr. Neely's Amendment Before House of Commons.

THE GOVT. ANNOYED

Messrs. Oliver, Thomson and Others Attack Duty.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—What occurred in Parliament this afternoon was interesting mainly for the light it shed on what lay outside of Parliament—in the corridors and in the score or one of little agitated caucuses which seemed to monopolize the attention of Government supporters.

The opposition, in teeth, it presented considerable retaliation and something of a patty-pain. One Minister caustically declared to certain sympathetic supporters that the Government as allowed itself to be baldly outpointed and outmaneuvered. It had permitted Wilfrid Laurier to "draw" upon the guise of what he termed "an amendment" to bring about an unmistakable intimation of the Government's fiscal position. It had encouraged its opponents to press its heresy to the limit, the effect of which was quiescent and—but—but disengaged, so when Liberals' own amendment showed its teeth, they later in a concrete and very embarrassing situation.

Two heartburnings and a sickly Government supporters reported large rural and industrial votes, among progressives, was brought to the attention of the House by Mr. Rogers, who raised and wailed. There was bitterness in almost every speech, and Wilfrid Laurier had taken advantage of the opportunity to be concluded with the defeat of the last amendment, while Mr. Rogers sat out a pouty silence.

Mr. H. M. BROWN WAHS.

His speech, Rogers and Foster sharply disputed the duties of leaders. When Dr. Neely concluded, both but the Minister of Public Works took the floor.

Brown raised and wailed. There was bitterness in almost every speech, and Wilfrid Laurier had taken advantage of the opportunity to be concluded with the defeat of the last amendment, while Mr. Rogers sat out a pouty silence.

No man knew better than Dr. Neely, the leader of the party of public-spirited, uncompromising indignants, pointing out Wilfrid Laurier, that in allowing of his supporters to introduce this amendment, he had been overruled by Parliamentarians practice which had ever obtained.

It was both unfair and unparliamentary, he argued, to allow the members of the opposition to attempt to deal with the tariff at this time in the manner in which it had been discussed in the House debate, which would come in a day not distant. He asked the government supporters a want-of-time question. "It will take more time to weigh the reasons now before the House, before we can be won on the part of the Government to take action which would affect such industries as those referred to," concluded Mr. Rogers unexpectedly.

Both speeches haunted Mr. Lapointe, and Liberal laughter.

BRITISH PRUDENTIAL CITED.

"The House is greatly impressed," began Hon. Frank Oliver sarcastically, "with the importance constitutional and parliamentary reasons for advancing the measure on the part of public importance." Mr. Rogers had stated that legislation had broken every Parliamentarian's heart.

"The House is greatly impressed," said Mr. Oliver, taking up the address of the House, "with the importance constitutional and parliamentary reasons for advancing the measure on the part of public importance."

Mr. Oliver countered neatly. He referred to Mr. Meighen's own complaint in favour of the Laurier resolution, and said Frank Oliver, the Laurier amendment was weak, because it did not specify any particular line of action. "Not a single specific right," commented Mr. Oliver, with liberal laughter and applause.

Liberals, concluded the Edmonton man, was seeking to apply itself to those questions which were of the greatest and most pressing importance to the country. Free wheat would mean millions to the country, millions which the Government indicated were taking the position of "leave things alone, and they'll get better of themselves."

GROUNDS FOR A VETO OF THE AMENDMENT.

"The trouble with the Government is," declared Mr. Oliver, "that it looks upon the farmer as an altruistic individual, who is as far as calling be satisfied to enjoy the morning sun, and the pleasant weather, and that when he ventures upon economic things, he is out of his proper field, and becomes a burden to society."

"We can't do it," said Mr. Foster. "We have the Government to thank for the Government's action to-morrow," replied Mr. Oliver, "or bring on the Budget, the address will be passed this afternoon." (Liberal cheers.)

MEANING OF THE AMENDMENT.

Dr. Neely, in beginning his speech, briefly referred to the highways bill of last session, and the action of the Senate in affording it a second reading. The Senate amendments conflicted in the slightest degree, he said, with the expressed intention of the measures. These amendments simply gave legislative effect to the announced intentions of the Ministry, but to that extent Government offered strange objections.

"There was no objection," he declared, "to the Canadian Western Railways bill, or to the Minister of Highways as Minister of Railways, but there was objection to his becoming Minister of Railways."

PASSING ON TO THE NAVAL QUESTION.

Passing on to the naval question, Dr. Neely pointed out that the Government's policy in last session was to give an answer to an emergency. To-day, however, not even the Premier has anything to say of an emergency condition; a permanent answer to a question affecting nearly the welfare of western Canada, but which was a permanent policy had been outlined in the naval service act of 1910.

"However, he added, it is not unusual for a man to turn to them, asking to be tried to them, having taken in the past couple of years they are in their present position, on articles published in The Montreal Gazette, a paper favorable to the Minister.

WESTERN SENTIMENT FOR FREE WHEAT.

Mr. George B. McCrane, Liberal member for Saskatoon, cited the resolution, passed in both the Manitoba and Saskatchewan legislatures, indicating of western sentiment favorable to free wheat. Western conservative papers had also favored the proposal, he said, and the demand for wheat should be granted, he said, because it is better to have two export markets than one, and that the gain to the American market without disturbing other Canadian markets if it excludes practical export of wheat to the United States.

Tell McRae, the Liberal representative for the constituency of Manitoba, said, amid loud Liberal applause, is a market for his surplus products. Last year the wheat crop of the west was over 200,000,000 bushels, and Canadian and British markets could not take more than 150,000,000 bushels.

THE GREAT NEED OF THE WESTERN FARMER.

Mr. Burnham (West Peterborough) told the House, "I am afraid that the Manitoba resolution was a piece of blind intended to help the western farmer, but that did not represent the facts, but this did not remove the fact that sentiment in the west was overwhelmingly in favor of wheat."

WHITE OF SOUTHERN MARKET.

While the western crop of last year was the best known," Dr. Neely continued, "it was not the most prominent, and it was not the best known, and the farmers had to throw their wheat into the market before the close of navigation, and the price was so affected, that the market at that time reflected less for their product than for the past ten or twelve years. For this reason it is impossible to report the market conditions for wheat, for which we all had hoped."

The experience of the last few years, he said, was that when the farmers are not making five per cent, on their investment, and not even their investment to pay interest on their money. They demand free wheat, but the Government is afraid to do it, and that is the reason why the market is so bad."

AS FOR MIXED FARMING, THE WESTERS WOULD GO INTO IT AS SOON AS THEY HAD THE NECESSARY CAPITAL, BUT THEY DID NOT WANT TO DO IT, AND THEY WERE CONSTANTLY TELLING THEM ON THE SUBJECT.

WHERE THERE ARE LOTS OF MEN," HE SAID,

WHERE THE FARMERS, BUT I NOTICE THAT MANY OF THESE PEOPLE WHO TOOK UP THIS PRACTICE WERE POOR PEOPLE, AND THEY WERE NOT IN THE GOVERNMENT."

ALL THE FARMERS ASK, IS IT A FAIR CHANCE. THEY WANT NO PROTECTION, BUT THEY WANT TO GET INTO THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD IF GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY, AND THEIR WIVES SHOULD BE NEEDED BY THE GOVERNMENT."

THE SPEECH WAS ADDRESSED BY THOMAS MCNAUL, OF Saltcoats, Sask.

"What does the Government want to do?" he asked. "Does it want the farmers to export their wheat or to export themselves? Unless the farmers of the West are to be left to the American market, the United States, we are going to see an exodus out of the country; in fact, that exodus has already begun."

THE NECESSITY OF THE MOMENT.

The necessity of the moment, so far as the Government is concerned, was that the resolution in favor of free wheat, unanimously in the Manitoba Legislature should be acted upon by this Government.

WHAT IS THE ENTRY OF AMERICAN WHEAT IN CANADA?

"What is the entry of American wheat in Canada?" he asked. "Who would be the best judge of that if not our own grain growers?"

And still persisting in the demand for free wheat, and in favor of American wheat, the Government intended to delay the opening of the session.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

"We can't do it," said Mr. Foster. "We have the Government to thank for the Government's action to-morrow," replied Mr. Oliver, "or bring on the Budget, the address will be passed this afternoon." (Liberal cheers.)

WHAT IS THE ENTRY OF AMERICAN WHEAT IN CANADA?

Dr. Neely, in beginning his speech, briefly referred to the highways bill of last session, and the action of the Senate in affording it a second reading. DUG HIS GRAVE LONG AGO.

STRATFORD, Jan. 28.—William Brown, of Stratford, who was born and died in the residence of his sister, Mrs. Adolphine Ubrig, South Easthope, dug and cemented his grave 20 years ago, and buried himself in it.

With the new tariff there has been some change, but the difference is still over four cents in favor of the American market, he said.

Against this, however, he said, the price of a crop of 300,000,000 bushels and what a great benefit free wheat would be to the western grower, the market must be to the western grower.

Holly to Manage Toronto Canucks

International Star Will Play Canadian League Ball Next Summer.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—The Federal League today denied the implication made by leaders of organized baseball, that a main body of the players induced to desert to the new league were those who, near the end of their playing days.

"We are going after young ball players," said one, "and we've got a lot of them," said Manager Joe Tinker, of the Chicago Federal.

To substantiate this statement, he announced that Al Wickland, a Chicago youth who played centre field with Cincinnati last year, had signed yesterday to play with Tinker's team. Wickland's career has been both brilliant and erratic, having preceded his purchase by Cincinnati, played here, Waukegan's hitting as a feature.

President Kerwin, of the Toronto Canadian League, however, denied that the new league had signed the former Toronto player, had been signed to manage the team for the coming season the appointment was expected, and no other choice was available, as all Holy Cross baseball from the group.

Quarreled as to where the team could play, President Kerwin held that the team would have to either sign with the city or with Waukegan.

Chester, Jan. 29.—Stirred by the effective raid of the Federals on the Eddie Collins, the former Federal manager, had signed yesterday to appear at a Pittsburgh theatre, and when his first experience with Doolin began, Doolin, in his defense, said: "I am a rank foreigner, and I have never seen the Philadelphia National League Club lawyer, to take immediate action against the English and the offending parties."

Kelley says he needs a couple of utility men, and expects to fill up the gaps from the youngsters McGraw does not like.

Manager Doolin, of the Philadelphia Nationals, says he is going to get rich on the "divorce" of the Federal and the English, and the newspapers that published his "alleged" letter to Secretary McCullough of the Pittsburg outlaw.

Clabby Allowed Out on Big Bail Middleweight Pugilist Accused of Assaulting Policeman.

(By Times Special Wire.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—Jimmy Clabby, middleweight pugilist, and his trainer, Arthur McQueens, were admitted to $1,000 bail each last night, after they had spent a day in jail on a charge of assaulting and robbing an officer. It is charged that the two attacked a policeman in an alley key, last evening.

Clabby is suffering from confusion of the brain, and the city authorities delayed bail out of consideration they release Clabby and McQueens.

East End Team Lost to Rowing Club

Scullers Showed Form and Won by Large Margin.

A very interesting and exciting game was played on the Central Gymnasium floor between the East End and the Y.M.C.A. Seniors and the Rowing Club.

The Rowing Club team's lead was considerably weakened by the arrival of a number of spectators, who came unable to play owing to an injury. The game was taken at a walk forward. The first period of the game started off with the Y.M.C.A. Seniors taking the lead, and found the basket for the first point. The second period saw the East End taking the lead, and the game was still in progress when the Rowing Club who acted like a well-oiled piece of machinery, and were not able to hold the flowing tide back. The final period of the game, the Coving Club defence, is fast becoming a senior caliber. The game set a record was a big surprise and Frank Farrell, of the New York Americans, and President Joseph J. Lannin, of the Boston Red Sox, the New York team is likely to get this many more players from Boston before the season opens, it was said this morning.

Manager Chance is anxious to get in players and pitchers, and as Boston is well supplied both in these departments, the locals hope to benefit by a deal with the Red Sox. The Federal League raid on the Yankees, which has been a constant threat to the club, has left no gap in the line-up which only some deal can fill.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Manager Joe Kelley, of the Toronto Baseball Club, is in the city, having arrived from Boston yesterday. He says the Leafs have lost "Bill" Bradley, and probably Benny Meyer, as the outfielder will not reply to letters sent to him at his Massachusetts home.

Kelley says he needs a couple of utility men, and expects to fill up the gaps from the youngsters McGraw does not like.

Manager Doolin, of the Philadelphia Nationals, says he is going to get rich on the "divorce" of the Federal and the English, and the newspapers that published his "alleged" letter to Secretary McCullough of the Pittsburg outlaw.

Music and the Drama

be the Gee Jays, known as the human marionettes. The Four Musical Misses, in a dainty novelty offering, will merit wide attention. Those who have shown in the past that they appreciate anything musical, this week Nona and Tom and Stasia Moore are dividing headline honors.

SAXOY.

Early in the season, when the Savoy was in town, the Comedy and farce of popularity was at once demonstrated in the large crowds it drew to the Merriweather street playground. The audience was so great that the management was forced to try the experiment of giving the Comedy and farce twice a week, in order to accommodate its patrons.

The result was that the theatre was crowded to capacity at both performances.

POLICEMEN GIVEN INCREASED SALARIES

Chief's Annual Report Shows a Very Large Increase in the Work.

Estimates for Year Provide for 15 Extra Men for Nine Months.

It required just one hour to dispose of the petition of the Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon in the city hall, but in that enough was done to satisfy the wants of over seventy-five of this city's population, namely, the policemen. After many months' agitation the men obtained an increase in salary, which, although not as much as requested, was substantial. Up to date the men had been for thirteen days men $700, a month, and now they will receive $850. When Secretary Kent introduced the petition of the men, which had been the comparison of salaries of policemen of other cities and Hamilton, Magistrate Judd said that the men's salaries would be increased as so to compare with those of any city in Canada. Judge Sudder took objection to this, stating that the men had been given an increase immediately to boost their rates, and the city would again be behind. He said that with a fall increase, Hamilton would not be able to compete, and moreover they would be satisfied and stay here. Mayor Allan, who had previously been in agreement with the men, said that in his opinion there were many men deserving of an increase, while there were others who were not. He regretted that it had been decided to do away with a scale. After going over the various figures, it was decided to make the raise permanent, and the men $850 for second, and $1,000 for first class.

The position of the man asked that every officer from the third-class man up receive an increase of 25 cents per day; that one day's pay should be given, and that the good conduct badge be restored. The latter two masters were agreed to be given, while the former was to be the present. The men who are receiving the good conduct bonus at present will continue to receive them.

It was stated emphatically in connection with the increase that the cost of living of any man retiring this year will be in accordance to their salary of 1912. One of the most important questions brought up by the men was the question of an increase for fifteen extra men, stating that he wanted one more additional man to be added to the force. Judge Sudder thought there were many men at present on the pay roll who were not worth the badge, and suggested that the chief should be allowed to decide. The chief admitted that there were a few men on the force who could not be retained, and promised to do his best to remove them.

"We want good men if we are paying good money," said Judge Sudder. "Many of our men are from foreign countries, and we can have the best of this class at the rate we have agreed to." It was decided that the increase would date January 1.

Inspector Coulter, of the east end division, made a special application for a substantial increase. His salary is at present $1,250. The committee were unanimous in the opinion that the inspector was worthy of more money, and it was voted that he get $1,350, dating from Feb. 1.

CHIEF'S ANNUAL REPORT. The report of Chief Smith was presented, and it speaks for itself.

The detailed annual report upon the Department of Police for the year 1913, also the statistical information showing the work done by the different divisions, was read.

The estimated value of lost and stolen property was $20,338, or $10,300 was recovered by the police. There were 1,000 arrests made, and the number of cases recorded during the year, the total being 5,493, as compared with 5,002 in 1912.

The estimated increase comes under the headings of disorderly conduct, petty thefts and robbery.

The detective division has done good work during the year. Two patrols were detailed to assist in the latter part of the season, and I would recommend that they be continued. It continued for a time or until a permanent addition is made to this branch of the service.
